

From: Wyatt Earp
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/16/02 7:20pm
Subject: Microsoft Comments

Lizard on a Stick A.G.
Content-type: text/plain; charset="US-ASCII"
Content-transfer-encoding: 7bit

I'm a computer systems administrator for a private school. I have used computers for 17 years. I vote and pay taxes and I would like to comment on Microsoft and a potential settlement.

1. Microsoft has shown that it will not work fairly with other software or hardware companies, so Microsoft must publish the applications programming interface or API for all of it's operating systems for the next 10 years, so that other Operating Systems will be assured of inter-operability with Microsoft Operating Systems.
2. Microsoft also needs to publish it's in-house APIs so other software companies are on the same level playing field as Microsoft.
3. Microsoft also needs to release the source code for it's browser, Internet Explorer, because that is the root of the current situation.

Those are the things that need to be done so that Microsoft is punished for it's illegal actions.

They committed an illegal act, punish them.

Mark Buchholz
555 NW Park Ave
Portland OR
97209